Where to Go

Lindsey Villages for families with Autism, at 74 Concession 11 East, is the place to be this year (and in the years to come)! The "village" (it's a farm) strives to offer education and support to those who have a direct link to someone with autism spectrum disorder. By providing an area with wide open space (200 acres!) and the therapy of animals, the operators hope to enrich the lives of those living with autism and provide some of the tools necessary to live a productive and rewarding life.

The village held monthly BBQ & Family Fun Days, throughout the summer and early fall, to provide the general public with an opportunity to meet the operators and be included in what they offer. If you know someone who lives with autism please share this place with them! Membership for 2016 is still FREE and 2017 will see the prices change to $10/month or $100 for an entire year!

History 101

The first European presence in the area dates to 1615 when Samuel de Champlain made a visit to Huronia. However, his journals are too vague to make any final decisions about the exact route taken. In 1810, James Crooks purchased 1,050 acres (4.2 km²) of land on the north and south shores of the rapids at the top of Rice Lake. A map prepared by Lieutenant James Smith in 1816-17 shows the name "Little Bobakajuen" opposite the rapids. The settlement of Crooks' Rapids was named in 1820.

As late as 1835, the only house on the site of the present village of Hastings was a small frame building on the bank, erected several years before that date by the Hon. Mr. Crooks as a mill, containing one run of very common stones. It is doubtful whether it ever actually ground much; it is believed to have been intended rather as a means to secure the valuable mill privilege at that place, rather than for practical utility.

Between 1837 and 1839 at a preliminary estimated cost of £7062, a lock was built at Crooks' Rapids, together with a dam and slides. This led to people staying in the area and they began to build on the banks of the river, the village that was to become Hastings.

Canadian, Eh?!

There are 80 cranberry farms in B.C. with many destined for the Thanksgiving table, and while it is doubtful cranberries were served at the first Thanksgiving meals, the indigenous people used them for cooking and dyeing and introduced them to the pilgrims.

Thanksgiving is a statutory holiday everywhere in Canada - except in PEI, Newfoundland and Labrador, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia

While pumpkins are a staple of many Canadian Thanksgiving meals, they originated with indigenous people and it is not known if they were present at the first Thanksgiving meals. However, there are recipes for pumpkin pie that date back to the 1650s.

130 km north of Winnipeg is the Narcisse Snake Dens conversation area. Each spring, tens of thousands of red-sided garter snakes slither out from their dens for a few weeks from mid-April to early May. Fortunately there are viewing platforms set up so you can watch them from afar.

We've taken a lot of jabs from the U.S. for our Monopoly-coloured Canadian currency, but what most don't realize is the green ink used for American money was invented at McGill University in Montreal, in 1857!
